STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES MATRIX*

Core Curriculum Learning Outcomes	Program Learning Outcomes	Course Objectives	Course Student Learning Outcomes	Assessment Method
To provide students with the optimum educational standard in the field of clinical nutrition and general knowledge in food technology	KP1: Demonstrate a depth understanding of the basis of nutritional science and the nutrient composition of food and discover the links between diet and disease and health	1. Know the principles of assessment of the nutritional status of infants, children and adolescents 2. To become familiar with the current best practices in dietary, biochemical, and anthropometric assessment of nutritional status for children. 3. Be able to select and perform the most appropriate methods to be used for assessment of the nutritional status of children 4. To demonstrate ability to measure, calculate, and interpret anthropometric data. 5. To interpret laboratory parameters relating to nutrition.	K1-Understand the basic concepts of children nutrition. K2-Understand the development stages during childhood K3-Apply the basic nutritional assessment concepts to evaluate the nutritional status of children in health and different disease conditions.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Case studies • Exams
To provide optimal educational and training opportunities for students during their professional preparation for careers in nutrition.	KP2: demonstrate an understanding of food chemistry, technology, preparation, safety and correlates nutrition with food technology and future challenges.
To participate in community services for health promotion and disease prevention programs	KP3: Explain the principles of cellular metabolic processes, the structure and function of the various physiological systems, and the principles of biochemistry
To encourage creativity and innovation in solving problems of emerging cases in the field of clinical nutrition	KP4: Providing students with high levels of educational quality based on training on specific pathological conditions in therapeutic nutrition.
	SP1: Evaluate critically scientific research from a variety of sources in relation to nutrition and health through working with others, communication, self-management, and problem-solving and reflect on the various components		S1- Know the techniques required to plan, conduct, analyze and interpret food and nutrition surveys of infants, children and adolescents. S2-To understand the biochemical changes, different disease pathophysiology, and the role of nutritional care in disease therapy/management. S3-Apply the knowledge into practice to provide good nutritional counseling and healthy eating practices for infants, children, and adolescents in health and different disease conditions. S4- Identify and compare/contrast methods of assessing body size and composition, dietary intake. S5- Participate in discussions about current controversies in nutritional status assessment.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Case studies • Assignments • Quizzes
To sustain the concept of collaboration to promote an appropriate diet solution in cases of health and disease	SP2: Communicate effectively with groups and individuals to promote the benefits of a balanced diet throughout the lifespan and demonstrate the ability to use scientific laboratory skills.
	SP3: Assess diet, food and nutrient intake, and the consumption of food constituents in individuals and groups
	CP1: Demonstrate consistent professional behavior in accordance with the legal and ethical boundaries of the dietetic profession
	CP2: Critically apply knowledge of diet and health to evaluate and communicate and comment on dietary or health information both from scientific sources.
	CP3: Utilize the methods of data analysis using computer software and apply these methods to analyze data obtained from a wide variety of sources and situations, and apply critical thinking, testing hypotheses, formulating suggestions in diet and health

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

It is The Hashemite University policy to provide educational opportunities that ensure fair, appropriate and reasonable accommodation to students who have disabilities that may affect their ability to participate in course activities or meet course requirements.
