K1- Describes the traditional mode(s) of treatment (medical treatment) for each disease or disorder and the relationship of treatment modalities to nutritional status/support. K2—Use the nutrition care process (NCP) to make decisions, identify nutrition-related problems, and determine and evaluate nutrition interventions, including medical nutrition therapy, disease prevention, and health promotion. K3- State the Academy Nutrition Care Process in diagnosing and evaluating outcomes. K4- Outlines composition and therapeutic adaptation of routine hospital diets.	Exams “On-line” reading
To provide optimal educational and training opportunities for students during their professional preparation for careers in nutrition.	KP2: Demonstrate an understanding of food chemistry, technology, preparation, and safety and correlate nutrition with food technology and future challenges.
To participate in community services for health promotion and disease prevention programs	KP3: Explain the principles of cellular metabolic processes, the structure and function of the various physiological systems, and the principles of biochemistry
To encourage creativity and innovation in solving problems of emerging cases in the field of clinical nutrition	KP4: Providing students with high levels of educational quality based on training on specific pathological conditions in therapeutic nutrition.
To sustain the concept of collaboration to promote an appropriate diet solution in cases of health and disease	SP1: Evaluate critically scientific research from a variety of sources in relation to nutrition and health through working with others, communication, self-management, and problem-solving and reflect on the various components		S1- Summarizes the basic physiological function of the respective organ system. S2- Perform nutrition diagnosis and intervention practically using NCP by practicing case studies S3- Explain current research trends associated with each disease or disorder which may ultimately affect nutritional status/support S4- Summarizes the clinical/nutritional implications of anthropometric, biochemical data, medical tests & procedures, client history, nutrition-focused physical exam and food history	Case studies Practice Written practical exam
	SP2: Communicate effectively with groups and individuals to promote the benefits of a balanced diet throughout the lifespan and demonstrate the ability to use scientific laboratory skills.
