Course Objectives

After completion of this course the student will:

1. Identify most commonly used drugs in the major drug categories covered in this course.
2. Develop basic knowledge about drug uses, mechanism of action, characteristics, side effects, interactions, kinetics and contraindications.
3. Develop knowledge of key clinical notes about major drugs and how to administer them.
4. The student will be able to translate pharmacological knowledge from this course into clinical decision-making.
5. Be able to retrieve relevant information about the drug from trusted online and offline resources.

Intended Learning Outcomes

A. Knowledge and Understanding

A1-Identify the pathophysiology, etiology, and clinical features of diseases and medical conditions mentioned in the course.

A.2- Recognize the basic pharmacology of different classes of antimicrobials, anti-cancers as well as immunopharmacology, gastrointestinal pharmacology and dermatologic pharmacology.

A3- Recognize the prototype drugs that work on one or more of the human body's systems and understand the cellular mechanisms associated with drug action.

A.4- Identify the main sources that can be used to get information about pharmacology.

B. Essential for Practice and Care (Intellectual Skills):

- B.1- Relate between drug effect and binding to different types and subtypes of receptors and how knowing the receptor of a certain drug would help in designing it and predicting its effect.
- B.2- Evaluate drug adverse effects, contraindication and drug interaction that may affect therapeutic decision.
- B.3-Distinguish the pharmacokinetic proprieties between medications in the same group and how that is important in drug selection according to patient's condition.

C. Approach to Practice Pharmacy:

- C.1- Apply learned information to optimize patient therapy based on patient condition.
- C.2- Predict some of the expected side effects of antimicrobials, anticancer as well as immunosuppressants and drugs used for dermatologic conditions.

D. Personal and Professional Development:

- D1- Create effective communication with patients and other health care providers about the effectiveness and safety of gastrointestinal medications, antimicrobials, anticancer as well as immunosuppressants and drugs used for dermatologic conditions.

COURSE REGULATIONS

Participation

Class participation and attendance are important elements of every student's learning experience at The Hashemite University, and the student is expected to attend all classes. A student should not miss more than 15% of the classes during a semester. Those exceeding this limit of 15% will receive a failing grade regardless of their performance. It is a student's responsibility to monitor the frequency of their own absences. Attendance record begins on the first day of class irrespective of the period allotted to drop/add and late registration. It is a student's responsibility to sign-in; failure to do so will result in a non-attendance being recorded.

In exceptional cases, the student, with the instructor's prior permission, could be exempted from attending a class provided that the number of such occasions does not exceed the limit allowed by the University. The instructor will determine the acceptability of an absence for being absent. A student who misses more than 25% of classes and has a valid excuse for being absent will be allowed to withdraw from the course.

At the beginning of the lectures, students should be on time and don't leave before the end of the lecture without an accepted excuse. If any one missed a class, it is his/her responsibility to find out about any announcements or assignments you have missed..

Sharing of course materials is forbidden. No course material including, but not limited to, course outline, lecture hand-outs, videos, exams, and assignments may be shared online or with anyone outside the class. Any suspected unauthorized sharing of materials, will be reported to the university's Legal Affairs Office. If a student violates this restriction, it could lead to student misconduct procedures.
